April 7th, 2019 (Northumberland County)

Sometimes, the numbers just speak for themselves; last year, our volunteers gave us 80,555 hours of service.

We are extremely lucky to have over 750 dedicated community volunteers that come out and support our work each and every day and they help us achieve our mission in various capacities. Whether it is through delivering programs, building capacity, governing the organization, fundraising, or another vital role, our volunteers support clients to remain healthy and independent in their own homes and communities.

“I am constantly inspired by the dedication of our volunteers week after week and year after year,” said Trish Baird, Community Care Northumberland’s Executive Director. “We would not be able to have the community impact we do without each and every volunteer.”

Although program delivery accounts for a majority of the volunteers engaged with us, initiatives like the “Honouring the Journey Campaign” to build Ed’s House, Northumberland Hospice Care Centre is also volunteer driven.

“Community Care really integrates volunteers into every aspect of our organization,” added Baird. “We have a variety of opportunities and are excited to get volunteers involved in new, creative, impactful, and fun ways.”
